Source: Defense Environmental Quality Program Annual Reports to Congress, Fiscal Years 1994 and 1995. DOD In discussing state-level variances, officials told us they believe some major changes could be attributed to practices such as initially identifying funds for a nationwide initiative to a single headquarters unit and then later identifying specific locations. Also, major decisions, such as closing of bases through the base closure process, could cause some significant DOD advised us that requirements generated under changes. In addition, federal, state, and local environmental statutes and regulations become DOD effective without regard to s budget cycle, and may necessitate shifts DOD in funding. stated...
