Excerpt from History of the Press Club of Chicago: An Account of Its Organization and Performances From January 1880 to September 1888 With a List of Members and Synopsis of Important Proceedings The Press Club of Chicago, with proper motives underlying its foundation, aided by dignified and able management, has, in the few years since its organization, achieved a prominence and influence for good never excelled by any similar organization in this country. It was on November 15, 1879, that the idea of forming the present Press Club first took root in fruitful ground. On that date, Samuel L. Clemens (Mark Twain), who was a guest of the Reception Committee on the occasion of the reception and banquet in honor of General U. S. Grant, was entertained by a number of journalists, and while festivity and flow of soul held joyous sway, he turned to Franc B. Wilkie, of The Times, and Mr. Melville E. Stone, of The News, and asked: Why is it the journalists of Chicago do not have an organization similar to the New York...

Reviews

This book is definitely worth acquiring. I have gone through and so I am certain that I will likely to read through again again in the future. It's been printed in an exceptionally basic way in fact it is only after I finished reading this publication in which actually altered me, change the way in my opinion.
